PROFILE

I'm passionate about the creative process from end to end, and in the past, I've written, recorded, and released multiple musical works. In searching for a career where I can utilise my creative collaboration skills, I've found UX Design to be the perfect expression of my creative and technical aptitude working in tandem, to genuinely improve the world step by step. I'm searching for a job opportunity where I can contribute my genuine strengths in communication, emotional intelligence, and creative problem-solving to a team in hopes of collaborating together in a positive work environment.
